Subject: New Video Short: Safety-Related Electronic Clinical Quality Measures

National Patient Safety Awareness Week is March 10-16, 2024. As part of continuing education and outreach for electronic clinical quality measure (eCQM) standards, the Electronic Clinical Quality Improvement (eCQI) Resource Center and the Centers for Medicare & Medicaid Services (CMS) have developed a video short on Safety-Related eCQMs. The intent of this video is to highlight the importance of reducing preventable health care harms and help clinicians, eCQM implementers, and others learn about current measures in use by CMS programs and in consideration by CMS for adoption.

Tell us what you think! Join the eCQI Resource Center User Group. Send any suggestions for improvement, news, events, and content for posting to ecqi-resource-center@hhs.gov.
