Do you have FOMO – fear of missing out?

We know how you feel. But there's no need to fear missing an important event in the ASCQR Program. Here's a guide to the typical flow of major program events through the year:

- January 1 – Submission period for web-based measure data to QualityNet opens
- March 31 – End of flu season
- May 15 – Submission period for healthcare personnel flu vaccination data to NHSN* closes
- End of June or beginning of July – Posting of proposed rule for the next calendar year's program changes and comment period opens
- August 15 – Submission period for web-based measure data to QualityNet closes
- September – Comment period for proposed rule closes
- October – Submission period for healthcare personnel flu vaccination data to NHSN* opens
- November – Posting of final rule for the next calendar year's program changes
- End of November or beginning of December – Medicare payment update determinations posted to QualityNet

And...on the fourth Wednesday of almost every month we have a webinar in the afternoon where we discuss the measures, ways to capture data, tools to help with program requirements, etc., as well as announcements.

Some dates are approximate, and some dates can change, of course, but we'll notify you of these changes well in advance via the ListServe. No FOMO necessary!
