Subject Line: Updated HQR System Known Issues Document

The Centers for Medicare and Medicaid Services (CMS) updated the Known Issues listed on QualityNet.cms.gov for Hospital Quality Reporting (HQR) system.

Current known system issues for the many CMS quality reporting programs within HQR are now being tracked in one document and can now be found here. The HQR team will frequently update the known issues document as the modernization of HQR continues.

The modernization of HQR requires your feedback to improve the user experience. To learn more about participating in HQR usability research, go to HQR User Experience.
