Subject: Pilot Opportunity: Test the Patient Assessment Web App

Information Session: Learn Details about a Pilot Opportunity to Test a Patient Assessment Web App for Submitting the IPF Patient Assessment Instrument on 12/15 From 2-3 pm EST

Background

CMS invites Inpatient Psychiatric Facilities (IPFs) to an information session about a new pilot opportunity to test a user-friendly web application (web app) for collecting and submitting patient assessment data from the IPF Patient Assessment Instrument \(IPF-PAI\), currently under development. CMS seeks IPFs with varying levels of technology adoption, including facilities with EHRs and those that have not adopted an EHR.

The pilot is voluntary and open to all IPFs participating in the Inpatient Psychiatric Facility Quality Reporting (IPFQR) Program, regardless of technology adoption level. To participate in the pilot, facilities must be able to use the web app, participate in usability testing and feedback sessions, designate appropriate staff, and ensure access to necessary IT resources. For IPFs that have adopted an EHR, the pilot will include launching the web app from the EHR and for IPFs without an EHR the pilot will include using the online tool.

Participating in this pilot will help your facility prepare for the upcoming requirement to collect and submit standardized patient assessment data starting in fiscal year 2028. IPF pilot sites will receive compensation, support, and training, and will have the opportunity to shape the tool's development to meet the needs of IPFs nationwide.
