We love lists – and there's a reason for it. Researchers tell us that lists organize information; they promise a message that has a definite end and a definite beginning. Lists help us remember and process information so that we can commit to those actions and have that lovely feeling of satisfaction when they're completed.

Here's a list for you...

Stuff to Do:

1. Pat yourself on the back. You finished entering your web-based measure data into QualityNet, as did nearly 3,900 more participating ASCs!
2. Tell your boss what you've accomplished. It's not bragging if it's the truth.
3. Celebrate your accomplishment. That's what doughnuts are for.

We'll be keeping you informed about upcoming events and other program updates through this newsletter, the ListServe, and announcements on educational sessions (there's one in September covering the ways your data are displayed publicly), but for now, enjoy that satisfied feeling!

You're welcome to call (866.800.8756) or email (<https://cms-ocsq.custhelp.com>) us if you have any questions or concerns.
